Facts and Fancies

Di-stilled waters run deep. They go to your toe-nails.

It's a long lane that has no ashbarrel—But no matter how long it is, Officer Wentworth will locate it.

Accident—A condition of affairs in which presence of mind is good, but absence of body is better. Resolved that the last man to arrive at the scene of an accident is the safest.

Adamant—From Adam's aunt reputed to be a hard character. Hence anything tough or hard! What bothers me is how did Adam come to have an aunt?

Afford—From the Latin "af" forth or forward and "ord" to propel. A Ford to propel forward—But who the deuce wants to be propelling all the time?

Advice—Something "sold" by a "good" and "given away" by your mother-in-law. Famous as the one thing that is more blessed to give than to receive.

Good Advice—Something that old men give young men when they can no longer give them a bad example.

Adversity—A bottomless pit surrounded by near-sighted friends—once you fall into this pit your friends may see you but they won't know you.

Appendicitis—A modern pain costing about $200 more than the old-fashioned stomach ache.

Athlete—A robust bunch of muscles, unable to spit the wood or sift the ashes—but good worker with a "fork" in one hand and a knife in the other.

Brand—Something carried on the hip of either man or beast. Can be found on the outside of a short red steer, or the inside of a long black bottle.

Boycott—The means by which the "good" undertake to show that they are "not so good."

Blossom Time—The time when the bloom on the porbois indicates that the individual owner has had a blooming time while his neighbors were dormant.

Balanced industry brings prosperity. Quite so, but how are we going to bring about balanced industry?

This is a question that has bothered political economists for the past century and more. In boom times everybody prospers exceedingly, but this is really "unbalanced industry," and it's very thing that brings about depression.

In times of depression industry is again unbalanced and goes as far down the scale as it formerly went up.

I am reminded of arguments that were put forth by certain speakers at the time of the dominion elections of 1921, when Mr. Craie was candidate for the U.F.O., and Mr. Chaplin was candidate for the Conservatives.

The argument put forward by some of the U.F.O. speakers was to the effect that there were too many people in the cities and not enough people on the land. In other words the cities had robbed the farms of a certain amount of population, and the cure for the situation was the return to the farms of many who had left them.

The weakness of this argument lies in the fact that while in the cities the people were "consumers" of farm products, but as soon as they returned to the farms they would become "producers" of farm products.

How the pie of farm products could be enhanced and the farmers in general be benefited by taking consumers out of the cities and placing them in the country to become "producers" is a mystery to me.

"Balanced industry" would be when all the factories were busy and selling their goods at fair prices, when all working men were working at fair wages, when all farmers were busy and selling their farm products at fair and profitable prices.

At present we have an unbalanced industry: Factories are idle, many men are idle, and farmers are hard up. How is the situation to be improved or cured? In my opinion there is just one way—By a balanced tariff.

No goods should be allowed into Canada that can be made in Canada. No farm products should be allowed into Canada that can be grown in Canada.

Then you would have your factories busy, your workmen busy and your farmers prosperous. The workmen would consume the farmers' products and the farmers would buy the goods made by the mechanics.

Today we are running our country for the benefit of foreign producers and our own farmers and mechanics are far from prosperous.

NOTES AND COMMENTS ON CURRENT EVENTS

There is a high tribute to the British "Upper Classes" coming from a most unexpected source, the Detroit Times, published by the Hearst Press. "This much you can say for the upper classes in Britain: They DO produce statesmen of ability, men who actually take an interest in public affairs, apart from any financial interest or special government favors for their own corporations."

"It would be rather difficult to point out a similar upper class group in this country. When Uncle Sam sees a very rich man on the way to the White House, or the Capitol, he says: 'Ouch,' and claps his hands on his pockets."

"Another thing may be said for Great Britain, which is probably the closest approach to a real democracy now operating. In Great Britain a POOR MAN can get justice when he sues a rich man, or a great corporation. And he can get it without ruining himself in the process being put off through years of waiting."

"Everybody knows what happens in this country (U.S.A.) when a little man with no influence, without much money, and consequently without any lawyer worth his salt, undertakes to sue a big corporation, or a very rich individual."

"Any competent lawyer will tell you that for a poor man to bring such a suit is simply insanity, and that it means ruin to the little man and another 'good laugh' to the corporation. If you doubt this try it. All of which is no more than the bare truth."

The people of the United States have just discovered that they were robbed of at least three billions of dollars last year through financial crimes. It is somewhat difficult for the ordinary person to realize exactly just how much three billions is, but it is considerably more than a million times the income of the average American family, and taking the population at 100 millions, approximately one-twentieth of the national income was stolen in one way or another through business frauds and crimes.

How, then, is this vast sum arrived at? Leading surety and insurance company officials agree that the figures are about as follows:

Loans due to stock frauds	$1,000,000,000
Insurance frauds	1,000,000,000
Direct Burglary and Theft	250,000,000
Embezzlement	125,000,000
Forgery	100,000,000
Seignior, Robberies, Customs Frauds, etc.	100,000,000
Fraudulent Insolvencies and Bankruptcies	150,000,000
Building Frauds	25,000,000
Miscellaneous	250,000,000
Total	$3,000,000,000

This is a most alarming and astounding showing, and the mere expression "crime wave" does not properly describe it. These figures seem to be a steady growth in crime in the United States proportionately larger than the increase that takes place in everything else in a growing country. Indeed, the surety officials are very definite in their opinion that there is a proportionally larger growth in crime.

In 1917 the companies paid out in claims to their clients 25 cents out of each dollar received in premiums. In 1921, the peak year, this amount went up to 43 or 44, an increase of 72 per cent over 1917. In 1923 this appalling figure was reduced to 36 cents. Apparently in 1924 there was no further rise, but the exact amount has not been worked out yet.

It would be interesting to know how Canada stands in this respect. But there has been considerable increase in financial crimes in Ontario of late years. It is evident, but apparently no exact figures for either the Province or the Dominion have yet been made public, if they are available.

That the local real estate market is the only one suffering from the competition of private autos and buses is evident from the annual report of the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission, which shows that the company at $102,307.27 on the operation of the road in 1924, the loss was, of course, 121 on the City of London.

When the local campaign was on in this part of the country to give the municipalities between the Niagara and the St. Lawrence rivers to become responsible for an "all-Canada" radial scheme, it was pointed out by those who opposed the scheme that one of the great dangers in the future was the competition from the motor cars in both the passenger and freight business, and they have been abundantly justified by the course of events since.

One cannot be asking what sort of a financial hole these municipalities would have been in now had they gone in for the "all-Canada" scheme. Even as it is the pressure of municipal taxes on the inhabitants of the Niagara district by no means light, but had that enormous additional burden been added, it would have split something like a nut to those involved.

At an angry meeting in Margate a timid young lady named Margate said: "I'll sit over here where there's nothing to fear." So she sat down in front of the target.

Persia or Iran, in the Old Testament called Elam, is situated in southwestern Asia. Its early history is mythical. For some time the country was ruled by the Medes, living to the north but in the year 559 B. Cyrus, the King of the Persians, was killed in battle in 529 B. C.

PEACH KINGS ARE BANQUETED

Official Presentation of Intermediate Cup, Medals and Crests Took Place Friday Night Last.

Last Friday night was a red letter one in hockey circles in Grimsby, when the official presentation of the Intermediate championship cup was presented to the Grimsby Hockey Club and to each of the champion Peach Kings a solid gold medal and a crest for their sweater coats.

A goodly number of fans sat down to an excellently prepared repast in the spacious dining room of the Village Inn and after a thorough discussion of all the good things provided by chef host Serravallo a small toast list was carried through.

Major Kidd was toastmaster of the evening and handled his position in a very suitable manner. The toast to The King was responded to by the assistant manager and singing God Save The King. The toast of The Ontario Hockey Association was proposed by ex-mayor Charles T. Farrell and very creditably responded to by President Wm. Eason of Stratford; Immediate Past President W. A. "Bill" Fry of Dunnville and Secretary W. A. Hewitt of Toronto. All three members of the great governing body eulogized the work and clean playing of the Peach Kings and urged them to continue to "play the game" in the future in as fine a manner as they had done in the past winter.

Mayor Livingston proposed the toast to Our Visitors and the great and only Gene Fraser of Niagara Falls responded in his usual clever and affable manner. Dr. Elliott of Niagara Falls also spoke.

G. B. McConachie, honorary president of Grimsby club proposed the toast to Our Team to which Harry Reid responded.

The presentation of the John Ross Robertson Memorial Cup to the club was made by President Eason and was accepted on behalf of the club by Vice-president Foster. Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Fry in a few well chosen words presented the medals and crests to the players.

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the presentation to the champions of solid white gold pen knives, as a gift from the boys of Lake Lodge School as an appreciation of the assistance and coaching that they had been given during the past winter by members of the team. Captain Reid made the presentation and read a very fine letter from the captain of the Lake Lodge First team, thanking the boys for their help and congratulating them on their whole victory.

Captain Harry Reid
Grimsby Intermediate O. H. A.
Dear Sir:

We, the boys of Lake Lodge School, wish to present to you and your team these gold knives. It is not because of what you have done for the Town of Grimsby that moves us to do this as we hail from Vancouver to Halifax, and do not consider ourselves citizens of this part of our country. You and your team showed throughout the season a type of character and sportsmanship which we are trying to develop and maintain such a spirit in ourselves, our team, and our school, and when we see it fostered developed and tested as it was in your games in Toronto, we cannot help but admire it. Therefore we wish you to accept these tokens of our appreciation and admiration of the spirit of you and your team.

On behalf of the boys of a school
GORDON CLAPPEYTON,
1st Hockey Team Captain.

The menu provided for the evening was as follows:

Your May Day Luncheon

TO celebrate the arrival of spring, a May Day luncheon is always appropriate, and is also easily prepared.

An attractive table decoration consists of a large striped stick of candy serving as a Maypole with ribbons suspended from the top to a series of Maybaskets, containing nuts and candies. They may be arranged in a circle at the base of the Maypole or be placed directly in front of each guest's place.

For the first course, a fresh fruit cocktail is refreshing to eat besides adding to the attractiveness of the table.

The main course might include chicken croquettes, fresh peas, mashed potatoes, a spring salad and hot rolls.

For dessert, a Maybasket tart is appropriate and is particularly welcomed by the hostess who is preparing and serving her own luncheon, because it can be made ahead of time and even arranged on the serving plate all ready to be put on the table.

Recipes for the croquettes and the tarts are given below.

Chicken Croquettes
1 cup milk 3 eggs, Crisco
4 tbsp. Flour 1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. Onion Juice
1 tsp. chopped Parsley
1½ cups finely chopped Chicken

Normal Schools take their name from the Latin word, "norma," meaning a rule. A normal school is one for the instruction and training of teachers, and the first was established at Paris, France, as late as October 30, 1794, and opened in the following January. However, it was soon closed. Another was established at Napoleon Bonaparte in 1807 and closed in 1822. The plan was revived in 1826 and has since been developed in most western countries. Every Province in Canada has a normal school, and in several cases more than one.

GRAPE-VINE FLEA-BEETLES MAY BE INJURIOUS.

Niagara grape growers, particularly those with vineyards situated near bush or waste land, would be well advised to keep a sharp lookout this spring for steady-blue or greenish-blue flea beetles, which eat out holes in the swelling grape buds, and in this way literally "rip in the bud" a proportion of the prospective crop of fruit.

Control: If the beetles appear in injurious numbers, they may be collected by hand, or they may be killed into some container by a shallow layer of kerosene. Kerosene may be used by dipping the canes on which the beetles are feeding, with a short stick, and it must be done on sunny days when the insects are active.

Injury to the buds from the grape-vine flea-beetle can also be largely prevented by spraying with 2½ per cent of lead powder, and 1½ gallon cheap molasses in 40 gallons of water, just as soon as the beetles appear in numbers. The spray should be applied with sufficient care to thoroughly coat all the buds. If rain falls shortly after the spraying, application should be repeated.
